R’Commute Program Rules & Eligibility

R’Commute is UCR’s alternative transportation program which provides incentives for using sustainable transportation (walk, bike, carpool, vanpool, transit or telework). The R’Commute Program is only available to faculty, staff and grad students. Eligibility of incentives is subject to verification using University electronic records.

Incentives for participation include:

- All participants receive one free Blue Lot 10-pack of daily parking permits per quarter. Actual allotments of daily permits provided are prorated depending on enrollment date. The 10-pack permits roll over from quarter to quarter however expire at the end of the fiscal year on June 30th. Permits can be reserved three days in advance. No refunds will be made for mistakes or non-use.
- All participants (except teleworkers) are eligible for the County sponsored Emergency Ride Home Program.
- Walkers and Bicyclists are allowed to use the shower and locker facilities at the Student Recreation Center.

Eligibility requirements include:

- You must use alternative transportation for the majority of your commute trips to campus.
- You may not possess a monthly/quarterly/annual commuter parking permit.
- Faculty and staff must have a minimum of 50% appointment. Grad students must be enrolled full-time.
- You may not live in campus housing.
- You are only allowed to purchase one additional 10-pack of daily parking permits per quarter.
- Walkers and bicyclists must reside within walking/cycling distance from campus.
- Transit riders must have proof of ridership (either records from RTA or a copy of their transit ticket showing at least three dates.)
- Carpoolers must consist of other faculty, staff or grad students (no undergrads), must travel at least 50% of the trip together and commute to campus at least three days per week.
- Teleworkers must submit a copy of their signed Remote Work Agreement.

1. Main carpool permit holder does not receive the 10-pack as the parking permit is always in their name.
